"Recycling is no longer 'just a nice thing to do' it's now become 'the right thing to do.' It has become an essential part of ensuring that the fragile Cape Cod environment we leave our children is cleaner and healthier for everyone."

About Us:

Here at the UCRRF we are striving for 100% waste diversion. Preserving the Cape's fragile environment drives our every action. Everyday emerging technologies and companies are developing ways to utilize construction and demolition material. Whether it is to convert these commodities into renewable energy or making new products out of debris that would have been landfilled only yesterday, we are committed to finding alternative uses for all the material we receive.

What do we do?:

We accept and recycle virtually all non-hazardous building materials that are generated from any size construction or demolition job site, residential or commercial, converting this debris into much-needed feedstock for reuse in secondary markets.
